Emergency Medicine Consent (England Only)

If your child develops a high temperature above 38°C that cannot be lowered by cooling methods, we will make every effort to contact you or your nominated emergency contacts to collect your child from nursery and for you to administer children's Paracetamol to reduce your child's temperature.

In the event that you are unable to return and you are unable to make arrangements to have your child collected or someone else to administer Paracetamol within a reasonable time, we will accept your verbal permission to administer emergency Paracetamol. Your child must have been in nursery for more than 4 hours and you must confirm that your child has not, in the last 24 hours, taken 4 or more doses of any medication containing Paracetamol.

If we are unable to contact you or your emergency contacts, we reserve the right to seek medical advice by calling NHS Direct on 111 or an ambulance. If requested, we will administer the recommended dose for the child's age of children's Paracetamol from our own emergency supply.

To enable us to administer this medication we require you to complete the following:

I confirm that my child is not allergic to children's Paracetamol. I give my consent for the nursery to contact NHS Direct or the Ambulance Service if they are unable to contact myself or my nominated emergency contacts to return to nursery to collect my child and administer children's Paracetamol in a reasonable time when my child's temperature cannot be reduced below 38°C. I agree to sign the Sudden Illness Assessment form when I collect my child from nursery, to confirm I have been made aware that this medicine has been administered.

I understand that the nursery can only give one dose of children's Paracetamol and that if my child's temperature rises again or after 45 minutes my child's temperature has not reduced, I must make arrangements to collect my child or an ambulance will be called.

Unexplained Allergic Reaction

(Where an Antihistamine is not already prescribed for my child and held at nursery)

If my child has an unexplained allergic reaction, I understand the nursery will seek immediate advice from either NHS Direct or the Ambulance Service who may advise immediate administration of an Antihistamine.

I therefore give my permission for administration of Nursery Antihistamine based on medical advice received.
